

To Whom It May Concern,

Adam Lloyd carried out work experience with A Prompt Ltd from 14th July 2014 to and including 17th July 2014 after he approached us by email.

We found Adam to be very courteous, keen to learn, hardworking and had excellent time keeping. For each task we gave, he listened carefully and then worked independently or as part of a team, producing intelligent and accurate work in a fast and efficient manner.

Adam is able to follow and immediately retain instructions where needed. He adds his own humour where appropriate (e.g. in researching and then writing Blog articles for a children's party supplies online shop).

We enjoyed having Adam in the 4 days he visited us and we would thoroughly recommend him to any future employer.

Sincerely,

Kirsty Paget
